

kids & RACE

Presented by Jason Frelot
Thursday, May 17, 7:00 p.m.

Redmond Community Center at Marymoor
6505 176th Ave NE, Redmond

We are excited to welcome a dynamic speaker to our LWPTSA Council/LWSD Parent Ed program this year, Jason Frelot, who will speak about “Kids and Race: Changing the Narrative”. Jason will discuss how parents and educators can empower their children to be successful participants in an increasingly racialized world.

Learn from Jason how the stories we unintentionally tell our children can have the greatest impact on their racial identity development, and steps to empower families to address racial injustice in a loving, sustainable, humble way. Learn how to seize the teachable moments that arise when we least expect them!

Jason Frelot is a father, early childhood educator, social justice advocate, and co-founder of Kids and Race Seattle, which has been featured in ParentMap magazine and on NPR.

For more info contact Rachel Dahl, Parent Ed Chair at parent.ed@lwptsa.net or Irene Neumann and Swarnima Aswinkumar, Co-VPs F.A.C.E. at FACE@lwptsa.net